the small print To book your place you must pay a deposit of 50% of the course cost, only then will your place be secured. This will be refundable if you need to cancel up to three weeks before your course begins. Cancellations must be in writing. The remaining 50% must be paid at least four weeks before the course begins. Demonstration type courses need a minimum of 10 participants and practical courses need a minimum of five participants to go ahead. If any course is cancelled for reasons beyond my control then a full refund of any deposit paid will be given. A consent form will be needed from adults before anyone under 18 can attend any course. I will try and stick to the stated menus for each course but this is subject to the availability of good, fresh ingredients on the day. If I can't buy what we need I reserve the right to substitute an alternative.
